TO THE person that stole the beautiful hanging basket from our dad's grave site, approximately 3 weeks ago, you must have been so desperate the you had to steal from the cemetery, knowing that the person in the grave site could not stop you. If you think that you got away with something because no one saw you, you are dead wrong! In case you don't know God sees and knows all and one day you will have to account for your actions. You are probably the same person that did this same thing two years ago. You should know that the appropriate people have been notified of this theft and will be keeping a closer watch. I hope that whoever you gave this to is enjoying it and that your conscience is clear?
